Memorandum to Bloomfield Citizens

Connecticut has a very strict law requiring the use of child safety seats when transporting children in a motor vehicle. Although many parents are trying to comply with that law, several studies by various safety and child advocacy agencies have discovered that a large percentage of safety seats have been incorrectly installed and actually expose the child to additional hazard.

The Bloomfield Police Department has trained, qualified officers available to assist you in properly installing your child's safety seat. Please contact the Department's Community Services Officer at 860-242-5501 if you have any questions about an installation or wish to make an appointment to have a seat installed.
